Practicalities

You don't need to have a registered Zoom account in order to join the meeting. Here's a very short explanatory video about how to join a meeting:

The access link is: <https://zoom.us/j/403702307>

If you're using Zoom for the first time, please try to log-in to the platform and join the meeting a few minutes before the official start. This way, we might be able to help if you experience some technical difficulties.

N.B. Your video feed will be turned off by default. The host will use a webcam and screen-sharing in order to present the content.

You will be able to interact with the host and other participants by chat and audio.
